

Leaning Against The Wall

Kings Of Convenience

Your eyes are cold
I know you'll tell me all
Not to fall
I lean against the wall
I'm on the floor
Not listening anymore
I should have known
The things to which you're prone
You cross your arms and tell no lies
A thousand thoughts run through my mind
A thousand words that I don't need
Would you ever leave me?

You cross your arms and tell no lies
A thousand thoughts run through my mind
A thousand words that I don't need
Would you ever leave me?
You cross your arms and tell no lies
A thousand thoughts run through my mind
A thousand words that I don't need
Would you ever leave me?
You cross your arms and tell no lies
A thousand thoughts run through my mind
A thousand words that I don't need
Would you ever leave me?
