

Silence (feat. Caylie Williams)

Urshan College

Lord can you hear me
I cry out, cry for mercy
The enemy chases
They're seeking, seeking to crush me

I long for the days when I could hear you
Remember my name
My spirit is weak, and my heart is broken
I reach for you
Even in your silence, I'll wait
I know, that your ways are beyond me
For I surrendered myself, long ago

You were there with me then
You'll be faithful, again

When I feel abandoned
I'll find words, find words to pray
My spirit is weakened
But I'll push myself, push myself to pray

Still long for the days when I could hear you
I'm still searching
I'll never forget the power of your name
So here I'll wait

Even in your silence, I'll wait
I know, that your ways are beyond me
For I, surrendered myself long ago

You were there with me then
You'll be faithful, again

Let God arise
For he has heard his people cry
Oh love, divine
To the cross I lift my eyes

Let God arise
For he has heard his people cry

Oh love, divine
To the cross I lift my eyes

Lyrics Submitted by Wyatt Carter

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>