Do You Remember

Lene Marlin

Do you remember those days
When the sound of the rain made your day
You'd put on your raincoat, play in the mud
Nothing can take all that joy away
One cup of cocoa, then off to bed
Mud, still in your hair
You didn't care, fall asleep with a smile on your face
Nothing as safe as that place

Do you remember those nights
When the sound of the screams made you scared
You'd bring teddy bears, hide under the bed
You know you will sleep there instead
Prayers to God, then closing your eyes
Forgot your favourite bear
You didn't care, fall asleep with tears on your face
Nothing as safe as that place

I don't know what memories you keep
Maybe one, both, maybe none, but you know someone
You know someone
Do you remember those days
They allowed you to play in the sea
You'd put on your swimsuit, bring all your toys
Feeling as happy as you could be
Wrapped in a towel, then off to bed
Salt, still in your hair
You didn't care, fall asleep with a smile on your face
Nothing as safe as that place

I don't know what memories you keep
Maybe one, all, maybe none, but you know someone
You know someone
I don't know what memories you keep
Maybe one, all, maybe none, but you know someone
You know someone
