

Worth As Much As A Counterfeit Dollar

Capital Lights

You've told another lie this time
You stood up but your legs aren't moving again
It's your call but it better be the last try
You hold ransom for tuition that I've already spent So give it up, give it up, it's time
They're auditioning new roles
Hoping we don't catch em pulling our legs
Don't go, the audience from last night
Will spread the word and the new crowd's showing up Throw the dirt and leave the path, feet covered up
So we don't know youre there
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating so fast Once more, the story of your whole life
For you its all just a game but the game never ends
Youre hiding in the closet while your one night stands
Waiting with his eyes closed counting to ten Now, gather around, gather around, hats off
While they're tossing in their quarters
Might as well give all the people a show
Don't cry, I'm not so good at good byes
Youre moving on at the same pace I'm giving up Throw the dirt and leave the path, feet covered up
So we don't know youre there
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating so fast Youre giving orders from the back seat
While the passengers are all unaware
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating so fast Now, its all gonna unwind
Hurry up before the sun goes down
Its past 4 o'clock my time
You'll come around, now, youre coming around And they'll all be fighting for their own rights
And they'll all be delighted just to know we're alive
And they'll all be fighting for their own rights
And they'll all be delighted just to know we're alive You've told another lie this time
You stood up but your legs aren't moving again
But all your wasted time goes to show
That youre just not giving up Throw the dirt and leave the path, feet covered up
So we don't know youre there
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating so fast Youre giving orders from the back seat
While the passengers are all unaware
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating so fast Throw the dirt and leave the path, feet covered up

So we don't know you're there
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating so fast You're giving orders from the back seat
While the passengers are all unaware
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating
Hold your breath until your heart stops beating so fast And they'll all be fighting for their own rights
And they'll all be delighted just to know we're alive
And they'll all be fighting for their own rights
And they'll all be delighted just to know we're alive And they'll all be fighting for their own rights
And they'll all be delighted just to know we're alive
And they'll all be fighting for their own rights
And they'll all be delighted just to know we're alive
