Hazy

Rosi Golan (ft. William Fitzsimmons)

hazy just because sometimes you let me know I don't maybe just because sometimes you make me crazy today will show me the something that will phase me something that will move me besides dreams it seems lately seems like even what I say and do myself everything I see and hear makes me angry what else can I say I'm still waiting for this moment to be gone million mile second a million thoughts in one high and wondering why so loud and bright I ain't got no idea what the hell is going on
