Jane

Andrew Calhoun

Jane be Jane
You're better that way
Not when your trying
Imitating something you think you saw
So, Jane be Jane
And if sometimes that might
Drive them away, let them stay there
You don't need them anyway
You're worried there might not be anything at all inside
That you're worried should tell you that's not right
Don't try to see yourself
The way that others do, it's no use
You're worried there might not be anything at all inside
But that you're worried should tell you that's not right
You've had it harder than anyone could know
So hard to let it go
But its your life, you can decorate it
As you like beneath the pain and armor
In your eyes the truth still shines
Jane be Jane, Jane be Jane
