Out from the sun speaks dawn again
Hello, dear old friend
Are words that are old and wise to men
Speaking truths to them
Out on a distant horizon
I cannot see and end
The moment is now to believe again, and againSo let's go and let's rock and let's roll
Lock the door
And let's go and let's rock and let's rollHere on the cliff the lifting winds
Are the sounds of a thousand amens
And the rocks with their might, would be earth in the sand
Above this ocean so grand
With the weight of the world and the weight that it adds
I too am a rock in fact
Holding myself so I do not react and crackSo let's go and let's rock and let's roll
Lock the door
And let's go and let's rock and let's roll
Let's gather friends
And let's go and let's rock and let's roll
Lock the door
And let's go and let's rock and let's roll
Grab a friends andRide towards the light into the sun
Ride until we're gone
Right to the end to the edge of the sea
Ride until we're free
Ride towards the light into the sun
Ride until we're gone
Right to the end to the edge of the sea
Ride until we're freeRide until we're free
Ride until we're free
