

Trying To Be Cool (Edwin van Cleef Remix)

Phoenix

City and desert coexist
Depending on the things you're wearing
Wildlife binoculars
Tell me that you want me
Tell me that you want me They teach you suffer to resist
Too much intention Presbyterian
Mint julep testosterone
Tell me that you want me
Tell me that you want me Cool, I'm just trying to be cool
It's all because of you
Some fanatic attitude
We're both on Open for business says it all
You can't go wrong
Is innocent too immature where you're from?
Tell me that you want me
Tell me that you want it all Two dozen pink and white ranunculus
Why, what are the problems to solve?
To part-time holy bachelors
Tell them that you want me
Tell them that you want me Cool, I'm just trying to be cool
It's all because of you
Some fanatic attitude
We're both on Open for business says it all
You can't go wrong
Compliments sound too cynical where you're from
Tell me that you want me
Tell me what they want is Gruesome, I don't care where you're from Nothing's that personal
There is no physical evidence of cannibal boyfriends

Songwriters

CHRISTIAN MAZZALAI, FREDERIC MOULIN, LAURENT MAZZALAI, ROBERT KELLY, THOMAS CROQUET Published by

Lyrics © THE BICYCLE MUSIC COMPANY Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>