

A Case For Shame (Shoemansky's Remix)

Moby

You today
You today
You today
You today Cut off your nose
To spite your face
Slowly send your palms away Draw fire crawl out
And seek the shade
Slowly send your palms away A fine line will set you apart
Swallow my name, swallow it down
Sing me a song Shoot the breeze, shake my hand
Across the fire, I caught your stare
Sing me a song
You today A beacon will send you home
A beacon will send you home A fine line will set you apart
Swallow my name, swallow it down
Sing me a song. Shoot the breeze, shake my hand
Across the fire, I caught your stare
Sing me a song A fine line will set you apart
Swallow my name, swallow it down
Sing me a song. Shoot the breeze, shake my hand
Across the fire, I caught your stare
Sing me a song Cut off your nose
To spite your face
Slowly send your palms away
I heard you say
I will not shame
You today You today
You today
You today
You today
