

Back To the Drive (First Version)

Suzi Quatro

east side, west side livin on the best side doesn't mean you can't come with from the north, the south whatever you're about I'll give you a guarantee you've still got more to give twenty-five years doesn't make a lot of sense if you're not out there rockin' you're just sitting on the fence throw away the pills you won't need them anymore the limousine is waiting at your door Let's go back, let's go back We'll do the 48 collide when we all go back to the drive
let's go back, let's go back we'll take a roller coaster ride and we all go back to the drive the glitter, the glamour the way we made it look and then we learned to use it like a hook and it was so true, me and you we had never looked better and we had every little thing it took precious metal dripping of my the walls magazines whose stories made it crystal clear well that's good but we always wanted more
the limousine is waiting at your door Let's go back, let's go back we'll get the best things in live when we all go back to the drive
let's go back, let's go back some medication for the mine if we all go back to the drive we really lived every minute if you could do it we did it and now we're gonna eat it up again so let's get ready yes we can be two pigs in a rock'n'roll pen we can't sit around while they raise the rent they'll cut the tree and then we'll wonder where the cherries went we'll catch fire for an encore the limousine is waiting at your door ... let's go back let's go back...

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>