Head Club

Taking Back Sunday

Well it's getting colder and you're getting distant
And I just keep thinkin

That I never meant it to be like this(to be like this)
You know what comes next(so do I)

You're begging for a way to gracefully bow out
And say goodnightIt's worse than you think
On your way home you should have known

You never listen to me

I'm only complaining to keep myself busy, sweetie I'm only complaining to keep myself busy, sweetieI can't say I blame you But I wish that I could

I'm sick of writing every song about youDon't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving (I'm sick of writing every song about you)

Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving
(I'm sick of writing every song about you)
Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving
(I'm sick of writing every song about you)
Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving
Don't call my name out your window, I'm leaving
