So Long

Athenaeum

Was I a fool to ever think
That we could be together till the end
I was afraid to be alone
And touch with my imaginary friendSo long so long
You put your foot where
Your mouth belongs
For so long so longOh, yeah
AlrightI was afraid you made me say
That I was just a little immature
Now I am older than before
Diseased and you could never find a cureSo long so long
You put your foot where
Your mouth belongs
For so long so longSo long so long
You put your foot where
Your mouth belongs
For so long so longCan I get by
Without a tear
From a broken eye
Can I can I
