Delight

Bic Runga

Anytime that you fall asleep I'm wide awake
Anytime that you leave your house
I'm waiting at the gate I'm not angry anymore
Come on and show your soul
I'd love to hang it on the wall
Framed for me
Anytime that you smile I know that's really you
Anytime that you laugh you know that
I'll be laughing too but it's not funny any more
Come on now, where's your soul?
Is that it crumpled on the floor?
Is this blame on me?
Delight, delight, delight, delight
Delight, at least we know its name
Delight, delight, delight
Wouldn't that be nice to feel again
Delight, delight, delight
It's locked outside, it won't be coming in Anytime now you'll talk, at least I hope you will
Anytime now you'll speak and you know
I'll be listening still but we don't say much any more
Come on, tell it from your soul
Delight, delight, delight, delight
Delight, at least we know its name
Delight, delight, delight
Wouldn't that be nice to feel again
Delight, delight, delight
It's locked outside, it won't be coming in
It won't be coming in
Delight, delight
It's locked outside, outside
Tonight it won't be coming in
