

Why God Loves You

P.M. Dawn

I look through love, baby, just like you
I hope to be all it wants me to be
So when you run from me I will always understand
But don't you wanna know why God loves you? I think I know how divine you are
And I only see what you want me to see
So when you cry a crucifixion I will always comprehend
But will you ever know why God loves you?
I will always love you more
Because you wanna know why God loves you All things in time are shadows as divine
Everything I do I only do through you
Oh, will we all survive? All the wonders why
As close as we are everyone's alone, ohh I'm flesh and blood, baby, just like you
We're also more than we're able to see
That's why through all your tribulations
I will always hold your hand
Because you wanna know why God loves you All the things inside are shadows of my lives
Everything you do affects me like I'm you
Will we all survive? No more wondering why
Because when closeness comes Oh, my God, yes
Oh, my God Oh, my God, yes
Oh, my God Oh, my God, yes
Oh, my God
