Gone Forever

Three Days Grace

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Don't know what's going on
Don't know what went wrong
Feels like a hundred years
I still can't believe you're goneSo, I'll stay up all night
With these bloodshot eyes
While these walls surround me
With the story of our lifeI feel so much better
Now, that you're gone forever
I tell myself that I don't
Miss you at allI'm not lying, denying
That I feel so much better now
That you're gone foreverNow, things are coming clear
And I don't need you here
And in this world around me
I'm glad you disappearedSo, I'll stay out all night
Get drunk and fuckin fight
Until the morning comes
I'll forget about our lifeI feel so much better
Now, that you're gone forever
I tell myself that I don't
Miss you at allI'm not lying, denying
That I feel so much better now
That you're gone foreverFirst time you screamed at me
I should have made you leave
I should have known
It could be so much betterI hope you're missing me
I hope I've made you see
That I'm gone foreverAnd now, it's coming clear
That I don't need you here
And in this world around me
I'm glad you disappearedI feel so much better
Now, that you're gone forever

I tell myself that I don't
Miss you at allI'm not lying, denying
That I feel so much better now
That you're gone foreverAnd now, you're gone forever
And now, you're gone forever
