

Somebody Special

Rod Stewart

How can you say life's getting you down?
Get yourself out, go along with the crowd
You're all dressed up, got nowhere to go
You feel left out 'cause nobody showed
Listen babeAnd when you think you're the only one
Who can't find love in this world
Tell yourself there's another one
Who's waiting for you somewhereSomebody special is thinking of you
Somebody special is dreaming of you
Somebody special is longing for you
Somebody specialMagazine dreams are easy stuff
But Heaven knows they ain't good enough
Picture yourself from reel to reel
And get your hands on that driving wheel
And you know whatWhen it's hard to satisfy
A simple simple fantasy
Somebody somewhere is on your side
Waiting for you, cryingSomebody special is looking for you
Somebody special is searching for you
Somebody special is waiting for you
Somebody special
Somebody specialSomebody special
Oh, so special
Somebody specialMaybe your heart's tormenting you
Why should it have any reason to?
Wipe off that negativity
Put on some positivityAnd when you think you're the only one
Who can't find love in this world
Tell yourself there's another one
Who's waiting for you somewhere, somewhereSomebody special is dreaming of you
Somebody special is looking for you
Somebody special is waiting for you
Somebody specialSpecial
Somebody special
Looking for you, baby
