We All Make Mistakes

Submersed

To know you is to know the love
Of an angel sent from above
To save me from all of the heartache I've knownTo hold you is to hold in my arms
Of forgiveness, of a compassionate heart
To be beating pieces and struggles a lieWe all make mistakes in our lives
There's a way it is to hold onto what is right
We all get the chance in our lives to make right
If I've hurt you, I am sorry, forgive me, forgive meTo show you this hole in my heart
Is to show you what you feel from the start
With your love you broke the chains that bound meWith the strings of heavens that brought us together
There's no doubt this will last forever
Until the end of timeWe all make mistakes in our lives
There's a way it is to hold onto what is right
We all get the chance in our lives to make right
If I've hurt you, I am sorry, forgive meI hear a voice on the winds of a whisper
Is this to me, to tell me I'm alone?
It says, "Please, never be seen through silence
Come one day, can you find your way to see?"We all make mistakes in our lives
There's a way it is to hold onto what is right
We all get the chance in our lives to make right
If I've hurt you, I am sorry, forgive meForgive me, forgive me, forgive me, forgive me
