Burn

Pro-Pain

falling apart at the seamsbut rolling as fast as we can we're searching for some in betweensand answers from only a manwho promised to help us to live and begged us to borrow our trustI gave it with not much to givea lie to my face was unjustso stand in line and wait your turn that wasn't how it was suppose to be cause there's injustice for all to seefan the flames and watch it burnrecklessly crushing your dreamsthey leave us forever in debtwell nothin's as good as it seemsif this is as good as it getsdesperately clinging to hope they raised us to merely existwe pick up the pieces to copecause we are the last on their listthat wasn't how it was suppose to be so stand in line and wait your turncause there's injustice for all to see fan the flames and watch it burndry my eyes, and all fall from gracehear my call, and take your stand tell no lies, to my facereject all, rise and fall

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/