

Fuego

RBD

Fire I'm gonna say it like I mean it
We' let this go on too long
You know I'm starting to believe it
That all together we could be strong I won't name who's to blame
For the misery and pain
It's a shame all the same
That we lay down and play their game You got it wrong, it's not alright We got the fire, but does it mean anything?
We got the fire tonight
We wanna fight but will it change anything?
Will it make it alright? Alright I know it's vague but I'll say it
There's something wrong everywhere
And you're ashamed to admit it
If it's not then you don't care Well, they will put you away
For the things that you say
And you're not buying in
But their still gonna make you pay You got it wrong, it's not alright We got the fire, but does it mean anything?
We got the fire tonight
We wanna fight but will it change anything?
Will it make it alright? Alright We got the fire, the fire tonight
We got the fire, the fire tonight We got the fire, but does it mean anything?
We got the fire tonight
We wanna fight but will it change anything?
Will that make it alright? We got the fire, but does it mean anything?
We got the fire tonight
We wanna fight but will it change anything?
Will it make it alright? Will that make it alright?
Will that make it alright?
Will that make it alright?
Will that make it alright?
Will that make it alright? Alright
