

Master's Apprentices

Opeth

There is a voice calling for me
There is a light coming down on me
There is a doubt that is clearing
There is a day that is dawning
There is a wound that is healing
There is a season waiting for me
There is a road that is turning
There is fire still burningThe sickness in me
Constant pace towards the end
The need is stronger
This time the need is deeperThere is a peace I am searching
There is a freedom I'm depending on
There is a pain that's never ending
There is a rain falling only on me
There is a dream I am living
There is a life I am dreaming of
There is a death I have been waiting
There is a home I am desertingDeath!I hold my breath and wait
Only moments remain
Movement for departed hope
Effect for absent friendSever the faith from my body
Leave me begging for more
Take what I have and deliver me
Into everlasting sleepSoothing trance
Colors fade and disappear
Ethereal light
Showing me what I can do withoutIn a motionless scene
There is only me
I take what I can
Controlling you to get aheadFadin' away, leavin', long for sleep
Closer now lead the way into deathEvery wretched dream I have left behind
Every wakin' hour I lie in wait
Sucked inside by will gone into the flood
All my questions unfurled as I was put to the testOnce I'm below there's no turnin' back
Aah aah aah aah aah aah
Every wretched dream I have left behind
Every wakin' hour I lie in waitPlunging into deepest void
Departed shell left drained behindPacing roads unknown
Searching for a new home

Desert in my eye
Barren lands inside
