No Lullaby

Jethro Tull

Keep your eyes open and prick up your ears

Rehearse your loudest cry

But there's folk out there who would do you harm

So I'll sing you no lullabyThere's a lock on the window, there's a chain on the door

And a big dog in the hall

But there's dragons and beasties out there in the night

To snatch you if you fallSo come out fighting with your rattle in hand

Thrust and parry light

A match to catch the devil's eye

Bring across of fire to the fightAnd let no sleep bring false relief

From the tension of the fray

Come wake the dead with the scream of life

Do battle with ghosts at playAnd gather your toys at the call of arms

And swing your big bear down

Upon our necks when we come to set

You sleeping safe and soundIt's as well we tell no lie

To chase the face that cries

And little birds can't fly

So keep an open eye

It's as well we tell no lie

So I sing you no lullabyIt's as well we tell no lie

To chase the face that cries

And little birds can't fly

So keep an open eye

It's as well we tell no lie

So I sing you no lullabyKeep your eyes open and prick up your ears

Rehearse your loudest cry

There's folk out there who would do you harm

So I'll sing you no lullabyThere's a lock on the window, there's a chain on the door

And a big dog in the hall

But there's dragons and beasties out there in the night

To snatch you if you fallSo come out fighting with your rattle in hand

Thrust and parry light

A match to catch the devil's eye

Bring across of fire to the fightAnd let no sleep bring false relief

From the tension of the fray

Come wake the dead with the scream of life

Do battle with ghosts at playGather your toys at the call of arms

And swing your big bear down

Upon our necks when we come to set
You sleeping safe and soundIt's as well we tell no lie
To chase the face that cries
And little birds can't fly
So keep an open eye
It's as well we tell no lie
So I sing you no lullabyIt's as well we tell no lie
To chase the face that cries
And little birds can't fly
So keep an open eye
It's as well we tell no lie
So I sing you no lullaby
