Something In Your Eyes

Shonlock

There's not a man who could number the sands of the ocean
Control the breeze send a ripple through the sea for motion
And it feels just like you're showing me a love song
And it feels just like you're telling me to hold on

I see something in your eyes tonight and it glows
Letting me know I'm never alone
I see something in your eyes tonight and it shows
I'll never let go, never let go, I'll never let go

Mended the pieces to my heart when my heart was broken
Put me together again the doors of grace were open
When I'm feeling like the world is on my shoulders
When I'm feeling like I just cannot go on

I see something in your eyes tonight and it glows
Letting me know I'm never alone
I see something in your eyes tonight and it shows
I'll never let go, never let go, I'll never let go

Sing it with me now, come on if you're ready to go
let's blow the strathosphere
Sing it with me now, come on if you're ready to go

I see something in your eyes tonight and it glows
Letting me know I'm never alone
I see something in your eyes tonight and it shows
I'll never let go, never let go [2x]

When I look into your eyes, I feel so alive
When I look into the sky, I feel so alive
When I look into your eyes, I feel so alive
When I look into the sky
