

Silence of the Heart

True Faith

SILENCE OF THE HEART

Truefaith

Here comes the time and to wish his luck
His grin is crooked and his flowers rot
His make up ruined by the rain that never stopped..

He wishes for better days ahead
Would make it easier to sleep on his bed
He envies those who are happy and those who are dead..

Heyyaa..

Chorus:

Silence is louder

And it can make your heart beat
The quiet speaks words that the man can never read
In the silence of the heart..

Jesus's father never spoke a word
Her mother's care can never be heard
They all think her loving Tim was a bit absurd..

I ran off with a pleasurable guilt
Afraid I might break the trust I built
Some things are better left unsaid, I felt..

Heyyaa..

Chorus:

Silence is louder

And it can make your heart beat
The quiet speaks words that the man can never read
In the silence of the heart..
