Ocean of Confusion

Screaming Trees

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

On a day so long ago, now no one can remember
There's a change this too will pass and vanish in the haze
This is moving too far under the skin of your sight
Ocean of confusion took me back to the end of the nightTransparent dreams fade in my head
In my eyes, I'm looking back for one last timeNow day has broken
Shattered in the wind
Lies, still unspoken
Nothing left to sendSliding by a picture handing, folded in your hand
Ride it out in the hopelessness now you'll understand
This is moving too far under the skin of your sight
Ocean of confusion took me back to the end of the nightTransparent dreams fade in my head
In my eyes, I'm looking back for one last time

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/