

Love Is Pain

Amanda Perez

Why is love so much pain
Sitting on the roof starrng at the stars
Thinking to myself how could I fell for someone so hard
When all I was told was lies
Now that I think about it, it makes me cryTo know someone I gave my heart to
Just tore my heart apart
My love that is endless
Why did this love have to startFeelin' the love I have for you
Just rushes through my veins
Why does love have to be so much pain
So much painMemories no one can take away
That pain that I would feel each and everyday
And it is going to be hard, but I will pull myself through
A real time that I get over lovin' youTo know someone I gave my heart to
Just tore my heart apart
My love that is endless
Why did this love have to startFeelin' the love that I have for you
Just rushes through my veins
Why does love have to be so much pain
So much painSo many nights, so many tears I've cried
No one to be by my side
Stuck with misery and pain
You are the one to blame 'cause it hurts to knowTo know someone I gave my heart to
Just tore my heart apart
My love that is endless
Why did this love have to startFeelin' the love I have for you
Just rushes through my veins
Why does love have to be so much pain
So much pain, so much pain
