Lessdmv - When the sun goes down

There's a silent demon right behind me his lips are turning colder He asked if he will die I'm getting closer to whisper him these words of inmortality my soul has became stronger and my eyes are turning black I will hear the wind and close my eyes
till the night comes out to fill heart

When the sun goes down
I'll be ready to live forever
when the sun goes down

theres an angel standing right in front of me with arms and wings wide open she's the lust that never dies
I will hear the wind and close my eyes
till the night comes out to fill heart

when the sun goes down
when the sun goes down x2

So please just hold me closer when I close my eyes
when I close my eyes
There are secret places hiding parts of me
I wonder why do I have this deeply feeling of insanity in me

When the sun goes down
when the sun goes down x2
