Ten Thousand Feet

I See Stars

I swear this plane is going down
Brace yourself, this is not a drill
This is the way that I dream of going out
And in this moment, I see my life flash before my eyes (Before my eyes)
At the best I'll be damned to the sea
Let the waves bury me

Ten thousand feet in the air
And as we're falling faster, the thought of you begins
Ten thousand feet in the air
And as we're falling faster, the thought of you begins
Woah
Ten thousand feet in the air
And as we're falling faster, the thought of you begins
I wish there was a way, to let you know (A way to let you know)
I wish there was a way to let you know

I am the living dead
I see my fate and it's just my luck
I know you think the answer's upon us
I got news for you
We're so fucked
We are the living dead [x4]

I'm writing you a letter, I hope it falls right down in your hands
At least you'll know exactly what I feel if all goes to plan
I see you know the better tear in every single bell of lies
No delusion or safety or senses hope in disguise

Why can't you see, that I fear for the worst
This is what I gave, I'm on your side

Ten thousand feet in the air
And as we're falling faster, the thought of you begins
Ten thousand feet in the air
And as we're falling faster, the thought of you begins
Woah

Brace yourself, this is not a drill
This is the way that I dream of going out

And in this moment, I see my life flash before my eyes (Before my eyes)
At the best I'll be damned to the sea
Let the waves bury me

Ten thousand feet in the air
And as we're falling faster, the thought of you begins
I wish there was a way, to let you know
I wish there was a way to let you know
Ten thousand feet in the air
And as we're falling faster, the thought of you begins
