I'll Stop the Rain

Screeching Weasel

are you waiting out ther for me? do you have a little hope still? well, i haven't given up yet. i still feel like i can change the world and start with me and you. i can make the sun come out at will. i can make the rain stop. i can wipe away your tears now and i can make you smile, i'm not lying to myself now. things are really getting better. it just takes a little faith, so i'm diving in head first, eyes open now and i feel like i can make the sun come out at will. i can make the rain stop. i can wipe away your tears now and i can make you smile. i feel like i can make the sun come out at will. i can make the rain stop. i can wipe away your tears now and i can make you smile. i know that i can make the sun come out at will or i can make the rain fall. i can start or stop the tears now and we can cry or we can try a little smile. and i know that i can make the sun come out at will and i can bring the rain on. rain that'll wash away your tears now. and if you try i can make you smile. i know now.
