

Where Did the Angels Go?

Papa Roach

Everyday I wake up and I fall from grace
Every move I make has got me stuck in the darkest place
I pray for mercy but I love the fear
I should have listened while the angels were living here I'm sick to my soul
I gave you control
It feels I'm hanging at the end of my rope
I wanna believe that there is still hope
Now I'm hanging in the balance alone Heaven better tell me... where the hell did the angels go? Everyday I ask myself if this is real
I only hurt myself to show you that I can feel
Are you the cancer that I can't survive
I should have listened when the angels were still alive I'm sick to my soul
I gave you control
It feels I'm hanging at the end of my rope
I wanna believe that there is still hope
Now I'm hanging in the balance alone I don't wanna be the last to know Maybe I should breathe and let it go Heaven better tell me... where the hell did the angels go? My demons are stronger than ever
This lifetime is harder than ever
To become somebody better, somebody better I'm sick to my soul
I gave you control
It feels I'm hanging at the end of my rope
I wanna believe that there is still hope
Now I'm hanging in the balance alone I don't wanna be the last to know Maybe I should breathe and let it go Heaven better tell me... where the hell did the angels go? Where did the angels go? Where did the angels go?
