Enlightenment

The New Age Meditators

After a night so long the time has come eclipse of my past returnsA rout in the wood releases my fright haunted like a birdBut your dimples remind me of the small flashes of light do treasure all seasons and destiny's chosen lineConsternation! is this the last goodbye? time won't stand still you have to learn to tame it yourselfConsolation!
the mercy of yours lasts the hope of eternity enlightens my pathThe way I choose will I fail and lose? one single moment and I'll payBehind the mask there's shame like ashes I'm still playing by rule
