Survivors

Matthew West

Whoa, whoa, whoa, whoa Whoa, whoa, whoa, ohYou've been dropped like a dream to the floor You've been told not to try anymore But you're wakened from yesterday's war 'Cause you're a survivorAnd your strength has been stolen away And your faith has been worn to a fray But you live to live on one more day 'Cause you're a survivorAnd nothing can stop you now Nothing can back you down You never give up, you never give in You're a survivor, whoa, whoa, whoa, ohFor the phone call that tore you apart For the fear that gripped your heart For the moment you saw who you are And what you're made ofFor the cancer that stole all your hair For the smile like you just don't care For your hope in midnight prayer You're a survivor, yeah, yeah, yeahAnd nothing can stop you now Nothing can back you down You never give up, you never give in You're a survivor, whoa, whoa, whoa, ohI'm convinced neither death nor life Neither demons nor angels of light Shadows present a future bright

Neither demons nor angels of light
Shadows present a future bright
Can separate usFrom the love that will lead us on
To the hope when all hope is gone
'Til the day heaven calls us home
We are survivorsAnd nothing can stop us now
Nothing can back us down

We never give up, we never give in And nothing can stop us now

Nothing can back us down

We never give up, we never give in

We never give up, we never give in 'Cause we are survivorsWe are, we are, we are, yeah
Oh, we are survivors
Whoa, we are survivorsWhoa, whoa, whoa, oh
