Half Your Age

Kid Rock

Hey now, darlin', you thought it was all fun and games
Runnin' 'round, tellin? everyone why we're not together
I guess you just had to feel important
And I'm sure you thought I was just gonna sit back
And take it on the chin, but honey, I'm a songwriter
And that, darlin', is where you end and this song begins
I found someone new who treats me better
She don't bitch about things we ain't got
When I sing this tune it don't upset her
She's half your age and twice as hot
Oh, she wakes up every mornin? and she folds my clothes
Doesn't care about the strippers dancin? at my shows
She knows that I love her so I just wanted you to know
I found someone new who treats me better
She don't bitch about things we ain't got

When I sing this tune it don't upset her
She's half your age and twice as hot
Yeah, you know, I found someone new who treats me better
She don't bitch about things we ain't got
And if I [Incomprehensible] it don't upset her
She's half your age and twice as hot
Oh, she don't start trouble ?cause she don?t need drama
She likes it in the mornin' and she loves my momma
I'm her big poppa and she's my little rock ?n? roll
I found someone new who treats me better
She don't bitch about things we ain't got
When I sing this tune it don't upset her
She's half your age and twice as hot
She's half your age and twice as hot
She's half your age and twice as hot
