

Careless

Tracy Johnson

15 minutes until the sunrise
I haven't see the back of my eyes yet
If you only knew the thinking that I do
Then you would watch your tongue
Instead you're busy sleeping I guess
You're only dreaming about your dreams
And maybe something is wrong here but maybe nothing is wrong with you
It's a disappointment but I'm not disappointed
All will be forgiven but I will not forget this
And I couldn't care less
Since you've been so careless, careless
14 minutes until the sunrise
Maybe I should dry my eyes now
My feet should hurt from pacing if only I could feel the pain
And this with you or without you well this attitude it surely stings
And maybe something is wrong here but maybe nothing is wrong with me
It's a disappointment but I'm not disappointed
All will be forgiven but I will not forget this
I couldn't care less
Since you've been so careless, careless
I couldn't care less
Since you've been so careless, careless
