Tyrant Kings

Needtobreathe

Shadows of Greatness
Yeah, it's the story of a small town
we wore the colors of our favorite little let-down
The lies we told were never much, but who could keep trackEnough that we all left the fire and never looked backThe tyrant kings, we had everythingStill I'm feeling like a vagrant in my own town.
I'm like an awkward conversation
All this work and I'm not seeing any wages
I ain't gonna stop until I doohhhh ohhohohMore times than not, the ones you love are who you let downWe're chasing something big that our parents never tracked down
The hardest part is looking back
And making sense of
The humble tries and troubled times of where we came fromThe Tyrant Kings
We had everythingStill I'm feeling like a vagrant in my own town.
I'm like an awkward conversation
All this work and I'm not seeing any wages
I ain't gonna stop until I do.OhhhYeah, I'm feeling like a vagrant
Lost in a world where no one thinks that we can make it
Don't you know time is like a fortune when we take it
Baby, let me spend my time with you.OhhhhTyrant Kings
We had everything
Still we run to YouWe were like tyrant kings,
We had everything
Still we run to youStill I'm feeling like a vagrant in my own town.
I'm like an awkward conversation
All this work and I ain't seeing any wages
I ain't gonna stop until I doOhhhhhhShadows of greatness
Yeah, it's the story of a small town
We wore the colors of our favorite little let-downs
