

Claustrophobe

Laura Stevenson

I've got a lump between my legs
I've got an ugly place to be
A sudden wind and a bomb drops
And you'll never feel it
Time becomes and begins all disintegrate
Bacteria is king again
I've got a lump between my legs
I've got an ugly place to be
The cluttered halls of all the unsellable homes
They breathe into their bellies
For the flash and boom of a tight room unraveling
Bacteria is king again
In the great south shore where the cars get bolder
Closets full of hung clothes
You're a claustrophobe
I've got an ugly place to be
Bacteria is king again
