

Stop Trying, Be Nothing.

Boston Manor

Stop trying, be nothing
Have your own mind, do your own thing.
Forget friends, forget dreams
Rip your expectations apart at the seams.
You don't need to be anyone or anything.
You're your own, you're yourself.
You are nothing & you're everything itself.
The light spills from the window & dances on your skin.
You are a story & I am the beginning.
Say those words to me,
Say those words to me
Say them like you mean them,
Say them like you mean them.
Nothing like playing dead.
You're the apple on top of my head.
So just keep still, i'm not holding my breath.
Light from the window, shines in the dusk glow
Skin cold as the snow, but softer & paler still.
You've been drinking, you've been drinking way too much.
I've been thinking, i've been thinking way too much.
Say those words to me,
Say those words to me
Say them like you mean them,
Say them like you mean them.
Nothing like playing dead.
You're the apple on top of my head.
So just keep still, i'm not holding my breath.
From the cold nights, to the big fights.
It's worth it just so I can see you smile.
And that glint in your eyes.
From the cold nights, to the big fights.
It's worth it just so I can see you smile.
And that glint in your eyes.

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>