

Beyond Measure

Jeremy Camp

The fog has finally cleared to see
The beautiful life Youve given me
To feel the breeze of my newborns gentle breathWith one to walk hand in hand
To share this life that You have planned
Its like a storybook with dreams that are meant to see
Every next step is an extraordinary sceneI know that Ive been given more than beyond measure
I come alive when I see beyond my fears
I know that Ive been given more than earthly treasure
I come alive when I'm broken down and given You controllIve faced a great tragedy
But have seen the works of what You bring
A display of faith that You giveI dont know if I will ever understand
The depth of what it is Youve done inside
But I know that I will wont find
Any worth apart from YouI know that Ive been given more than beyond measure
I come alive when I see beyond my fears
I know that Ive been given more than earthly treasure
I come alive when I'm broken down and given You controlEverything that I have
Has been given so unselfishly
And shown that even when I don't deserve
You always show the fullness of Your loveI know that Ive been given more than beyond measure
I come alive when I see beyond my fears
I know that Ive been given more than earthly treasure
I come alive when I'm broken down and given You control
When I'm broken down and given You control
When I'm broken down and given You control

Songwriters

Jeremy Thomas CampPublished by

THIRSTY MOON RIVER PUBLISHING INC.;STOLEN PRIDE MUSIC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>