Together

Samael

can you give as much as you can take can you love as much as you can hate the flame we share is one as you're aware the needs we burn is the child we never had we split our lives to find our mind again we do divorce so our first fight's regained together will we remain to saytogether we will live, this century got so much more to give together we will leave, giving to the world a better place to growfeelings we keep away from decay feelings we send each other everyday does your silence speak the world I hear does your reserve mean what I fear the forever we are is the forever we murdered stay right here, stand by metogether we will live, this century got so much more to give together we will leave, giving to the world a better place to grow together we will live, this century got so much more to give together we will leave, giving to the world a better place to grow
