Bye Bye Baby

Ok Go

"Bye bye baby," Cybil says as she walks out the door
You can bet that Hollywood looks oh so good
Much better than it ever has beforeSo my pets have left me in search of careers and richer soils
Heading off to pure-bread friends and happy ends
And anything to prove I'm disloyalIt's not just that I'm selfish and scared
It's not just that I'm so unprepared
It's just you'd think I'd grow out of this, wouldn't you?So take me to winter, as if it was discontent I'd see
I'll live with the madmen there and pull my hair
'Cause lunacy is everything I needIt's not just that I'm selfish and scared
It's not just that I'm so unprepared
It's just you'd think I'd grow out of this, wouldn't you?"Bye bye baby," Cybil says as she walks out the door
You can bet that Hollywood looks oh so good
Much better than it ever has before
