

World Turn

Copeland

In the back of your mind everyone was watching
And no one cared at all
In a never ending loop of time quiet washed over you
The quiet upon the wall
Now you can feel the world move slow
If you lay down on your back and wait
And suddenly you hope

And the waves will just keep crashing on your back
Until youâ€™re finally covered over
And you felt the world turn
And you felt the world turn its back on you
You felt the world turn
And you felt the world turn its back on you
Its back on you

And the waves will just keep crashing on your back
Until youâ€™re finally covered over
And you felt the world turn
And you felt the world turn its back on you
You felt the world turn
And you felt the world turn its back on you
Its back on you
