Get Lost, Find Yourself

Chunk! No, Captain Chunk!

Somewhere in between the end and the beginning
I found a way to finally
Pick up the pieces of the mess I used to be
And sail away to nowhere

Cause all this time, I've walked the line
But deep inside I was waiting for a sign

I lost my way but I found myself
Hear the sound of open lands
I guess I belong somewhere else
Than where the ground cracks where I stand

I spent too many nights looking back on my life
And faking smiles to everyone
I used to be the one wandering with ... eye
And trying hard to clear this mind

Cause all this time, I've walked the line
But deep inside I was waiting for a sign

I lost my way but I found myself
Hear the sound of open lands
I guess I belong somewhere else
Than where the ground cracks where I stand

Got lost and found myself doing much better
Went far from this town and I'm running ever further
