You

Seinabo Sey

Won't you tell me to my face
If I'm bound to be replaced
I've been thinkin you might be the one
Won't you show me where you're coming fromI've been saving you a space
You already won this race
Cause it seems like you're on the run
Won't you tell me what you're hiding fromI need you so
I need you so
I need you so I will stay
Yes I will be standing right where you left me
Until you look my wayIf you tell me what to do
I'll move mountains, show it through
If you let me I'll turn on the light
Show all I see in you is right
We might need to speak the truth
All the lies are filling you
I assure you nothing good will come
If we keep marching to this drumI need you so
I need you so
I need you so I will stay
Yes I will be standing right where you left me
Until you look my wayWon't you tell me to my face
If I'm bound to be replaced
I've been thinkin you might be the one
Won't you show me where you're coming from
