

Downsides

Oceans Ate Alaska

Life's not as bad as you make it out to be
Reach out... the world is at your feet
You can't dwell on your feelings, in a city that never sleepsStop dreaming
Start believing in yourselfWake the fuck up, break through the walls
Drop your fears
Control was never lost, it's always been hereBecause I'm...I'm walking on thin lines of broken glass every night
You have no idea, you have no idea...
About all the fucked up shit that runs through my mind
Keep your head up son and look on the bright side
Stop weighing up the downsides of life
And you'll be just fine
You'll be just fineIn this concrete jungle
You've got to fight to stay alive
Burn bridges in order to survive
Opportunity is your only ally
And shut your mouth it's your only alibi.
But the worst part about this is I can't fully describe it
These problems and issues - are not mine
I can't help you, it's up to youStop dreaming, start believing
Show no weakness and hide your feelings
I'm walking on thin lines of broken glass every night
You have no idea, you have no idea...
About all the fucked up shit that runs through my mind
Keep your head up son and look on the bright side
Stop weighing up the downsides of life and you'll be just fine
You'll be just fineI'm walking on thin lines of broken glass every night
(Stop weighing up the downsides of life)
You have no idea...
About all the fucked up shit that runs through my mind
(Keep your head up son and look on the bright side.)
You have no idea, you have no idea...
