

Courtney's Song

James Blunt

There's still a light on your table
There's still your name on my phone
I can't believe I'm not able to call
We met in a beautiful place
You danced, I talked
I go back there every single day
I'm still there, but you're not
You lit me up and you led me inside
Then you disappeared with no warning sign
You broke more than my heart
When you left without saying goodbye
I'm here to let you know
I'm here to let you go
There's still your voice in my memory
There's still a way that you move
I can't believe that's the way out you choose
We live in a beautiful world
We danced, we talked
I found a girl and she stayed with me
She's here, and you're not
You lit me up and you led me inside
Then you disappeared with no warning sign
You broke more than my heart
I'm here to let you know
I'm here to let you go
We live, we breath
We hope, we bleed
We love, we lose
We die
We live, we breath
We hope, we bleed
We love, we lose
We die
We live, we breath
We hope, we bleed
We love, we lose
We die
We live, we breath
We hope, we bleed
We love, we lose
We die
You lit me up and you led me inside
Then you disappeared with no warning sign
You broke more than my heart

I'm here to let you know

I'm here to let you go
