

The Love He Has for You

Point of Grace

When you're living for the love of a lifetime
You wonder if the waiting will ever end
And the right from the wrong that you've guarded so long
Is closer that it's ever been But sometimes a moment of weakness
Can sacrifice the treasure of time
And cause you to miss the miracle
God longs for you to find There's a love He has for you
There's a heart that He's been saving
There's a joy beyond all measure
That only comes from waiting There's a love He has for you
It's more than the hope you're holding to
And you will find the only love that's true
Is the love He has for you When you're torn between today and tomorrow
And holding out for something you cannot see
There's a strength you can find knowing in God's own time
You'll discover what He meant to be 'Cause love like the Father intended
Is more than just a state of the heart
So don't give up hope in the holding on
'Cause no matter who you are There's a love He has for you
There's a heart that He's been saving
There's a joy beyond all measure
That only comes from waiting There's a love He has for you
It's more than the hope you're holding to
And you will find the only love that's true
Is the love He has for you There's a heart that He's been saving
There's a joy beyond all measure
That only comes from waiting There's a love He has for you
It's more than the hope you're holding to
And you will find the only love that's true
Yes you'll find the only love that's true
Is the love He has for you Oh the love He has for you
The love He has, the love He has, the love He has for you
So much love
The love He has, the love He has, the love He has for you
The love He has, the love He has, the love He has for you
The love He has, the love He has, the love He has for you
