Remember to Forget

Equalibrum

No, oh, remember to forget you
No, oh, remember to forget you
No, oh, remember to forget you
Sometimes I really, really miss you
And when I really, really start to
I stop myself from doing
Something that I might regret
Like picking up the phone to call you
Like hanging out and dreaming of you
Like thinking back to the very first moment we met
Then it comes like a flash, that's when I
I remember to forget your name
As you play your games on someone else
I got a lot of things to do with someone who
Loves me better, better than you
Not the same 'cause you changed around the rules
Since there's nothing left to second guess
I remember to forget
Oh, ooh, whoa, ooh, whoa
I remember to forget
Oh, yeah, oh
Some days it's very, very easy
To feel like you and I were really
So meant to be together
So meant to try love again
When will I ever meet another?
Am I always gonna wonder?
'Bout what you're doing, where you are
And if my heart will mend?
Then it comes like a flash that's when I
I remember to forget your name
As you play your games on someone else
(No, oh)
I got a lot of things to do with someone who
Loves me better, better than you
(Oh, yeah)
Not the same 'cause you changed around the rules
Since there's nothing left to second guess
(No, oh)

I remember to forget
No, oh, remember to forget you
No, oh, I remember to forget
No, oh, remember to forget you
Ohh
I remember to forget
Your name when you play your games
On someone else
I got a lot of things to do with someone who
Loves me better, better than you
Then it comes like a flash
That's when I
I remember to forget your name
As you play your games on someone else
(No, ohh)
I got a lot of things to do with someone who
Loves me better, better than you
(Ohh, no, no)
Not the same 'cause you changed around the rules
Since there's nothing left to second guess
(Oh)
I remember to forget
I remember to forget your name
As you play your games on someone else
I got a lot of things to do with someone who
Loves me better, better than you
(Ohh, yeah)
Not the same 'cause you changed around the rules
Since there's nothing left to second guess
I remember to forget
Ohh
I remember to forget
(Oh, yeah)
I remember to forget
Your name when you play your games
On someone else
I remember to forget
I remember to forget
