Startup Chime

Ladytron

School holiday that you could do without

A weekend break we've slept in late

A beach resort under a year of rain

This is where it has to startWhen the AC hum inside your sleepy head

Drowns the startup chime inside your heart

Technology is there to cure yourself

This is where it has to start This is where it has to start

This is where it has to startUnfamiliar brand falls from an empty shelf

Without sounding an alarm

The test results tell you nothing at all

This is where it has to startWhen the AC hum inside your sleepy head

Drowns the startup chime inside your heart

Technology is there to cure yourself

This is where it has to start This is where it has to start

This is where it has to startThe northern lights are just a band for hire

Playing class reunions without end

The test results tell you nothing at all

Technology is there to cure yourselfA dusty cartridge for the VCS

Is on the way to see old friends
