

Brand New Goodbye Song

Waylon Jennings

Baby, go down to the drugstore, buy me a guitar string
And be sure to wear your coat, girl, 'cause it might rain
'Cause honey, you know that rain is bad for my guitar strings Put on your warm coat honey, it's gonna be cold
tonight
Put on the one that's warm and long
'Cause you're just before hearin' my brand new goodbye song Baby, I've tried your doctors, they just couldn't make me well
The higher I tried to climb, the further I fell Guess it must have blew my mind sniffing the fumes of Hell
Put on your warm coat honey, it's gonna be cold
tonight
Put on the one that's warm and long
You're just before hearin' my brand new goodbye song Baby, throw away my pillow just before you turn the light
All you'll have next to you now will be the night
I'll be somewhere wrong, you'll be somewhere right Put on your warm coat honey, it's gonna be cold tonight
Put on the one that's warm and long
You're just before hearin' my brand new goodbye song
