Jack Daniels and Jesus

Chase Rice

Well lately I've been trading a good sermon and some praying
For a stranger in my bed and a night that needs explaining I've opened more bottles than I've ever had my bible
This third row communion sure won't lead me to revival

Between the Black Label and the letters unread
I've felt what living is, and what it's like to live dead

I've taken a ride in the devil's Cadillac
I've been so high thought I wasn't coming back
And just when I think I'm too far gone
Ringing in my head's the twenty-third psalm
I've seen the light, I've seen the darkness
Only God knows where my heart is
I've got my strength and Lord knows I've got my weakness
Oh, I'm lost somewhere between Jack Daniels and Jesus

It's my fault that I ain't called my mamma in a month of Sundays
She'd smell the whiskey through that phone
I can't stand to hear her heartbreak
Next week I see my brother Casey for the first time
Since it all went down and I blacked his eye the night after our daddy died

I've taken a ride in the devil's Cadillac
I've been so high thought I wasn't coming back
And just when I think I'm too far gone
Ringing in my head's the twenty-third psalm
I've seen the light, I've seen the darkness
Only God knows where my heart is
I've got my strength and Lord knows I've got my weakness
Oh, I'm lost somewhere between Jack Daniels and Jesus

I ain't afraid to admit I've hit rock bottom
You want to see a lifetime full of sins
Just at me, I've got em

I've taken a ride in the devil's Cadillac
I've been so high thought I wasn't coming back
And just when I think I'm too far gone
Ringing in my head's the twenty-third psalm

I've seen the light, I've seen the darkness
Only God knows where my heart is
I've got my strength and Lord knows I've got my weakness
Oh, I'm lost somewhere between Jack Daniels and Jesus

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/