Brush It Off

Plan Three

Ooooh

You make them wild now

You make them lost now

You're in the zoneOoooh

You make them want you

Oh how I want you, not to goBut everything comes falling down

The silhouette, a smile or frown

And anytime,

All we do is wrongAnd I need you, but then what?

And I leave you, but then what?

Once again, I stand here corrected

Thinking it's too soon, to have it all

Hard enough to know, what I really want

I start changing with everything around me

I brush it offOoooh

I'm walking wires

Over a train crash

I'm holding on

And you, you make me useless

You left me senseless

You lead me onBut please go on, it feels so good

I need this pain, it's understood

That everytime

All we do is wrongAnd I need you, but then what?

And I leave you, but then what?

Everytime, I stand here corrected

Thinking it's too soon, to have it all

Hard enough to know, what I really want

I start changing with everything around meI was here

Still more then once

It's carved into my mind

Well I was here, you were out of reach

Still somehow scars my memoryI'm still here, though always behind

I need to know, will I do right this time

Not anyone, takes a lieI brush it off, then what? Everytime, I stand here corrected

Hope it hits you hard, if it hits at all

Till you finally know, what you really want

Maybe then, I'll be gone forever
